Very little, if any, corn has been planted. The sowing of oats has not been completed, and is making very slow progress. Some of the earlier sown portion is up and looks well. Wheat is in generally he cendition, but a few complaints are unde that it is yellowing for lack of sunshine. Clover and grasses of all kinds are doing well, and stock has been turned out in the pastures. The condition of te-bacco plants has improved during the week, though a carcity of them is reported from a number of counties. Reports generally indicate that fruit escaped errious damage from recent frosts. But little gardening beyond the planting of a few potatoes in favored localities has been done.

CENTRAL SECTION.
All forms of vegetation made very slow progress during the week, and farm work is backward in most counties of this section at least two weeks. Everything is at a standatill, and, unless a marked improvement in weather conditions comes very soon, farmers will bevery late in the completion of spring work. A few correspondents is the more Southerly counties report some fields of corn planted, but the majority state that very little progress has been made in the work of plowing for the crop on account of continued dampness of the soil. no doubt waree, I am in full secord with you in the belief that your plan is one of wast importance, not only to this section but to all that portion of territory tributary to the proposed line.
While I have regarded the accomplish-natural highways and fully demonstrated in theory that the "Longest way 'round is the abortest way there." This is all well enough in theory and while it has resulted in great development, yet the time has come for a disregard for the old adage, and the "Beeline" theory must predominate.

adage, and the "Beeline" theory must predominate. In the proposed construction of the Black Diamond, you have demonstrated by surveys the fact that in my judgment lays to rest all opposition as regards the possibility of successfully reversing the order of things, and shooting at the "Bull's Eye," over a maximum grade not one creede sity-sis feet to the mile, and directly across innumerable existing gravity highways, and through the two largest undeveloped sections of the industrial South, as well as tapping the coal-fields of Ohio, West Virginia and Pennsylvania.

countries could, as well as suppling the docal indied of Ohio, West Virginia and Penn-aylvania. Reference to a railroad map will demonstrate this proposition, and point receipt to the vast unoccupied coalizeds of Kentucky and Sau Tennessee, and a vast extention of varied recourses in the "Old North Control of Control based upon modern practices and demands. —

If prosperity comes to the South is such volumes as is predicted for it, it must be bern of an industrial condition, and those conditions travel only by rail.

There is no valid reason why imports from foreign lands should be dumped upon the Eastern coast, and hauled thousand of miles to a destination remote from its landing place. There is no valid read of miles to a destination remote from its landing place. There is no ports of New York should be transported overland the entire breadth of a coninent, and landed in Knoxville to he great Nörthwest has, by surveys you have made, demonstrated the fact that a line of road, with a grade of not over sixty-six feet to the mile, can be constructed through a country every mile of which that traverses the South, will formish its own tonnage.

From my standpoint takes but the teaching of capital that these condition exist, and the tips of miles for other of the teaching of capital that these conditions caist, and then construction must follow I see that it is your intention to carry out the same line of policy North of the Ohlor diver that you insugarsted and exist of the construction of the construction of the construction of the construction of the construction. As you are aware the sid of $45,000 given you by Knoxville and Knox county largely aided you in accomplishing the work here, and not only that, but at time when our future wore a dark aspec you instilled new hope into the inears of discouraged inhabitants, and held it place here many a man who is still here and has aided in holding prosperity with us. In other words, I mean distinctly a sy that when you came to Knoxville.

packing up to leave for more promising fields.

Your work here filled their empty hearts with hope, and the distribution of the funds many a mouth with food, and while you may be accredited with it by the "Shada," at the same time I do not hesitate to say that the very hope engened the same time I do not hesitate to say that the very hope engened the same time I do not heart to the same time I do not hesitate to say that the very hope engened the same time I do not heart to say the same time I do not heart to say the same time I do not heart to say that the very dome I do not heart to say the same I have to say the same I have

But this is not all, for I know that if your proposition is carried out it will do more to develop this country than has any railroad so far constructed. This lower than the country is full of resources that the North and West must have, and which are now withheld from them only from lack of transportation facilities.

I know, too, that this section of the Seuth draws from the grazaries of the Northwest, and while we have many inducements to offer to settlers, yet the day has never been, nor will it come, that the Ceducent is not offer to settlers, yet the day has never been, nor will it come, that the reducements to offer to settlers, yet the day has never been, nor will it come, that the reducement is other to be considered to the control of th
